2017 Award for Outstanding Volunteerism

Mail/Fax Nomination Form

Nomination due date: June 30, 2017

About the award

The Award for Outstanding Volunteerism honors an Academy volunteer who has made a single, noteworthy volunteerism contribution that is above and beyond what is reasonably expected of an Academy volunteer. The award is presented at the Academy's annual meeting.

Eligibility requirements

Any Academy member is eligible for this award except current board members or officers (if different). Past board members or officers (if different) are eligible to be recognized for service as long as such service did not occur during their respective tenure as a board member or officer. Prior recipients of this award can be nominated and win multiple times if their contributions in successive years warrant it.

Eligible candidates are members of the Academy who have performed in a way that is conspicuously above and beyond what is reasonably expected with respect to volunteer duties and responsibilities for the Academy during the 12 months preceding the nomination. In addition to Academy council or committee participation, service on behalf of the Academy may include participation on committees of other organizations, such as the NAIC, that reflects positively on the Academy and benefits Academy members.

Please use this form to recommend an actuary for the Award for Outstanding Volunteerism. If you would like to recommend several actuaries, complete and send one form for each candidate.

Who is the actuary you are nominating? (Please print the name clearly.)

Describe how this actuary's volunteer service to the Academy demonstrates how this Academy member has performed in a way during the past 12 months that is conspicuously above and beyond what is reasonably expected with respect to volunteer duties and responsibilities for the Academy. (50-300 words, including how long your nominee has been a volunteer, if you know, and brief descriptions of the nominee's most important volunteer achievements. Use a separate sheet if necessary.)
