Hohman Elected to Lead American Academy of Actuaries

WASHINGTON – 7 Oct. 2009 – The American Academy of Actuaries announced today that its board of directors has unanimously elected Ken Hohman to the Academy’s office of president-elect. The ceremonial installation of Hohman as president will take place during the American Academy of Actuaries luncheon and annual meeting on Oct. 26 in Boston.

He had previously served on the American Academy of Actuaries board of directors from 2006 to 2008 during his tenure as president-elect and president of the Conference of Consulting Actuaries. During that time, he was also a member of the North American Actuarial Council, a group that fosters cooperation among the actuarial organizations in the United States, Canada, and Mexico, and a representative to meetings of the International Actuarial Association.

Hohman is a consulting actuary and principal with Bryan Pendleton Swats & McAllister in Louisville, Ky. He has more than 30 years of experience within the actuarial field—primarily focusing on design, funding, administration, and regulatory compliance of qualified and nonqualified retirement plans.

He is an enrolled actuary and has served on the Joint Program Committee for the Enrolled Actuaries Meeting—the largest professional conference of enrolled actuaries. He also is a fellow of the Society of Actuaries.
